An immediate connection was made between the kindred spirits as they discovered their mutual love of art, theater and technology. After coming across a product called, "el wire," the lights turned on and the possibilities seemed endless. Together, with their wives Eleanor and Whitney, they began to experiment with shapes and designs to develop puppetry-based neon creatures that quickly came to life. In 2007, they created their first show, "Dino Light," under Corbian Arts. Then, in January 2012, Lightwire Theater was founded and premiered "The Ugly Duckling" and has since produced six shows. Based in New Orleans, Lightwire™ Theater continues to create and deliver innovative theatrical experiences to audiences worldwide.
